

BARANGAY HISTORY

Long time ago, before the Spaniards came to colonize the country; the place is like a forest wherein tall trees and wild grasses grew. The place is just like an island between two big creeks. The first resident of the place consists of two tribes. The Baluga's and the Igorot's. Tribal war between the two is so often. They are fighting with each other wherever they met. One time, heads of these two tribes decided to fight against each other in the forest area. They agreed to use Bow and Arrow (PANA in Tagalog) in fighting each other. In that case a tribal war was declared. They both went to the agreed place and by using their bow and arrow (PANA) the two heads first died. Then the two heads died, their followers decided and agreed to end up the war and join their hands for peace and unity.

When people from other town came to the place to clear it after so many years and asked what the name of the place is, they merely say "NAGPANAAN" (the place where the war through bow and arrow happened). When the Spaniards came, bigger group of migrants came to dwell in the place, and from the name "NAGPANAAN", they changed it to "PINAGPANAAN".
